

Do My Horse and I Qualify for Midwest Championship Classes?

1. Are both exhibitor and owner/lessee of horse to be shown residents of Zone 5?
 - a. Yes – proceed to #2
 - b. No – You do not qualify
2. Are both exhibitor and owner/lessee of horse to be shown current members of APHA?
 - a. Yes – proceed to #3
 - b. No – You do not qualify unless the non APHA member attains membership at this show
3. For youth or amateur exhibitors, do you or your immediate family own the horse you are exhibiting?
 - a. Yes – proceed to #4 for halter classes or #5 for performance classes
 - b. No – You do not qualify to show this horse in any Midwest Championship class
4. For halter exhibitors – have you placed in the Top 5 in any halter class at the APHA World Show with any horse in 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, or 2015?
 - a. No – proceed to #6
 - b. Yes – you do not qualify to show in any Midwest Championship halter class
5. For performance exhibitors – have you placed in the Top 10 in any performance class (other than Youth or Amateur Walk-Trot, Novice Youth, Novice Amateur, Intermediate level, or non-pointed World Show classes) at the APHA World Show with any horse in 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, or 2015?
 - a. No – proceed to #7
 - b. Yes – you do not qualify to show in any Midwest Championship performance class
6. For halter horses – has this horse placed in the Top 5 in any halter class at the APHA World Show with any exhibitor in 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, or 2015?
 - a. No – proceed to #8
 - b. Yes – this horse does not qualify to show in any Midwest Championship halter class with any exhibitor
7. For performance horses – has this horse placed in the Top 10 in any performance class (other than Youth or Amateur Walk-Trot, Novice Youth, Novice Amateur, Intermediate level, or non-pointed World Show classes) at the APHA World Show with any exhibitor in 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, or 2015?
 - a. No – proceed to #8
 - b. Yes – this horse does not qualify to show in any Midwest Championship performance class with any exhibitor
8. Congratulations! You and your horse qualify to show in the Midwest Championship classes that have gotten you here.